What is a qualified charitable distribution?

A qualified charitable distribution (QCD) is a distribution of funds from your IRA directly to a qualified charitable organization, such as St. Matthew's House. Because the gift goes directly to the charity without passing through your hands, the dollar amount of the gift may be excluded from your taxable income up to a maximum of $100,000 annually, with some exceptions. Please consult your tax advisor for information regarding your specific exceptions.

Who can make a qualified charitable distribution?

QCDs can be made by IRA owners who are age 70 1/2 or older. Many individuals who are required to take money from their IRA but do not need it for living expenses have chosen to make QCDs from their IRAs to support the work of St. Matthew's House. This may make sense for you too!

How do I make a qualified charitable distribution to St. Matthew's House?

Your QCD must be made directly from your IRA custodian to St. Matthew's House on your behalf. Each financial institution has its own process for initiating a qualified charitable distribution. Many retirement plan administrators require you to use their distribution forms and comply with other requirements, so follow your financial institution's forms and procedures to ensure you receive any potential tax benefits associated with this gift.
